

Tactical Firearms Instructor Certification Course

Sept 29 – Oct 1, 2021 / Jonesboro, IN
Hosted by GreyMatter Tactical

$525.00

This 3-day / 24-hour instructor certification course is designed to teach firearms instructors the various principles and safety considerations associated with conducting tactics-oriented live-fire team drills and scenarios. Most basic firearms instructor certification courses don't cover this aspect of firearms training. In fact, this type of training is often deferred to force-on-force training environments. However, nothing solidifies the knowledge, confidence, and safe application of tactics like performing them under live-fire conditions.

NOTE: This course requires the use of carbines / rifles. Students don't need to be certified as a rifle instructor to attend. However, students must have successfully completed a rifle operator certification course of 16+ hours to attend this course.

Topics Covered:

- Firearms safety vs. range safety
- Legal justification for training
- Training responsibilities
- Student preparation
- What types of tasks/scenarios to conduct
- Conducting drills vs conducting scenarios
- Proper instructor positioning to maintain control
